

Quantitative Research Proposal Topics

- The relationship between educational achievement and economic status
- The link between urbanisation and economic growth
- The effect of solar electricity on the wholesale energy market
- The relationship between innovation and fiscal decentralization
- The relationship between micro-financial participation and expectations
- The link between debt accumulation and retirement
- The relationship between symptoms of psychiatric disorder and independent living skills
- The relationship between children's nutrition and cognitive development
- The link between consumer confidence and electoral results
- The relationship between immigration and crime statistics
- The relationship between social welfare and business performance
- The link between income and occupation
- The relationship between materialism and national happiness
- The effect of siblings on social skills
- The relationship between college study and future job satisfaction
- The effect of education on obesity
- The relationship between scientific evidence for abortion and the definition of viability
- The effect of positive discrimination of company culture
- Compare the weight loss benefits of low carbohydrate versus high carbohydrate diets
- Compare the benefits of weight training versus cardio regimes
- How much exercise leads to a lasting physical benefit?
- To what extent are fast food restaurants responsible for obesity?
- The relationship between emotional stability and overall well being
- Compare the use of nutritional therapy with modern medical approaches
- To what extent has technology affected communications?
- The relationship between school prestige and academic standards

- The link between military support and economic development in developing nations
- The relationship between crime rates and gun ownership
- The link between sugar intake and diabetes diagnosis
- The relationship between high fat diet and heart disease

For more topic ideas click here!